RED CROSS RE-OPENING

Red Cross Rooms will reopen for work on Monday morning August 20, after ten days of rest and recreation. It is hoped that many workers will find time to come to the rooms. There are surely many who have not been sewing who can give some time each week. There is work for all and it is much needed.

ONE HUNDRETH BIRTHDAY

Mr. Lucius Palmer Taylor will celebrate his one hundredth birthday anniversary next Saturday August 18th at his home near Winameg. Mr. Taylor who was born in Buckland, Franklin County, Massachusetts, August 15th, 1817 has the distinction of being the only centenarian in Fulton county where he has lived on the farm in Pike township which is still his home since 1843. Mr. Taylor is one of the most highly respected citizens in this county and has merited the esteem in which he is held by his long life of constant industry integrity and usefulness.

PROUD TO CLAIM THEM

Among the boys and men that the citizens of Wauseon are proud to claim as belonging to this community are the young men who have recently heard from this place and have laid down the lines of work in which they were making a success, in order to answer the call to their country's colors. Among these of whom we have recently heard are the Wager brothers, Foster and Robert, both of whom were born and raised in Wauseon. Foster is a member of the Medical Reserve serving "Somewhere in France" with Base Hospital No. 4 of the Lakeside Unit. Robert is in the Aviation Section of the U. S. Signal Corps, and is now training at the U. S. Navy Aero Station at Pensacola, Florida.

WAUSEON'S 1917 CHAUTAUQUA

One of the services that the Redpath Chautauqua has rendered to the people of Wauseon and vicinity this year of 1917, lies in the relief from the nervous tension and strain incident to the war time conditions. The Chautauqua came just at a time when the fact that the United States is at war with and must face the same relentless, heartless foe that has ravaged Belgium and France and exhibits in its warfare no vestige of consideration for other humanity than itself, was being borne in upon the hearts and minds of this community because our own boys were going into that war. The program has relieved that tension, brought a diversion that has given us an opportunity to get hold of ourselves steady ourselves to meet the things we cannot avoid and which have the power within themselves to crush us unless we master them.

Not every number on the 1917 Chautauqua program pleased every one, but there was something in every number that appealed to some of those that heard the program and so every one benefited by some part of the program. Every individual artist and entertainment, from our point of view is worthy of commendation, some were better than others, but all of them fit together to make one harmonious and successful program whose real value to the community is greater than can be measured in dollars and cents.

Standing out among the many good things of practical value to all the people are the addresses of Dr. Charles E. Barker on Sunday afternoon and evening. The five rules for a happy life given by Dr. Barker are worthy to be memorized—and practiced by every man woman and child in the community.

1. "Cultivate the habit of always looking on the bright side of every experience and circumstance."

2. "Accept cheerfully the place in which you find yourself each day."

3. "Throw your whole soul and spirit into your work whatever your work may be and do it the very best you can."

4. "Form the habit of doing little bits of kindnesses to the people you come in contact with each day."

5. "Adopt and maintain an attitude of child-like confidence in God as your Father."

The work of Miss Moore with the children was most excellent and the children's pageant on Wednesday evening was as much appreciated as any other single number on the entire program.

Judge Wolf in behalf of the local committee announced that a contract with the Redpath Chautauqua Company for 1918 had been signed by that committee.

Biliousness

WHEN you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. There is nothing better.
